(Romans 7)
April 5, 2018

1. Share about that point or season in your life when you realized your brokenness, depravity, and desperate need for Jesus.
2. What are one or two sin struggles that you have found yourself prone to chase over the course of your life? What have you learned in our Romans study that will help you in dealing with these sin struggles?
3. As you have grown in your walk with the Lord, how have you fought the temptation toward self-righteousness (the feeling of moral superiority)? It's easy to compare your life with the lives of non-believers or younger Christians and assume that you are doing well or at least better than they are. How do you fight that dark, hidden sin of self-righteousness?
4. Are there any Bible verses that you turn to in moments of discouragement when you've "done it again" (given in to some sin)? Share them with your group, and explain how those verses encourage you.
5. If non-believers sin and Christians struggle with and sometimes sin, what difference does Jesus make?
6. After studying and discussing Romans 7:7-25, what are you encouraged to start doing, stop doing, or keep doing?
